MEETING IN MOLDO NEAR CHUSHUL

Indian, Chinese military commanders are back at the LAC talks table today

Meeting scheduled after word from Beijing amid extended winter deployment on both sides.

KISHRANNAKSHI
NEW DELHI, JANUARY 23

MORE THAN two-and-a-half months after the violent face-off between the Chinese and Indian troops near Pangong Lake, the two nations are back at the LAC talks table today. After the December 18, 2020, meeting, the Chinese side had decided to pause talks in the LAC region in Chang La, Pullma and Pangong East because of a large Chinese deployment in the region.

A couple of weeks ago, sources on both sides had confirmed to The Sunday Express that talks between the two sides have started, with China claiming that the two sides are discussing the disengagement of troops in the Pangong Tso area. However, Indian officials claimed that talks had started to find a way out of the current impasse on the LAC.

On January 5, the two sides had agreed to pull back from the LAC in the Chushul sector between the Hanle and Tangtse areas.

After talks between the two sides were stopped in December, India had alleged that China had sent additional troops to the LAC near Chushul, which, if true, would be a violation of the 2013 MoU on disengagement. The Indian side has claimed that Chinese troops held a position just four kilometers away from the LAC.

A couple of weeks ago, sources on both sides had confirmed to The Sunday Express that the two sides were discussing disengagement in Pangong East, but the Chinese side had claimed that talks had started to find a way out of the current impasse on the LAC.

In the meeting today, the two sides are expected to discuss the disengagement of troops in Pangong East, while Indian officials have claimed that they will also try to resolve the issue of the Indian troops stationed in Chushul.

Indian officials had claimed that the Chinese side was displaying an “intransigent attitude” in the talks but had also said that they were willing to compromise. Indian officials had also claimed that the Chinese side had stopped the talks because they were not interested in disengagement.

However, the Chinese side had claimed that it was willing to disengage from the area but had also said that they were not interested in disengagement.

NEW DELHI, JANUARY 23

IN THIS context, the Delhi government has announced a few special initiatives to ramp up vaccination numbers. “Our)throws to the vaccine campaign and increase the vaccination drive in the coming days,” said Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal on Saturday.

In a bid to encourage more people to get vaccinated, the health department of Delhi’s MCDs have been asked to promote selfie booths to badges, as a part of the city’s vaccination campaign.

On Saturday, the health department of MCDs in the city launched a selfie booth campaign, where the vaccine recipients can have their selfies taken and get vaccine badges issued on the spot. The selfies can be taken at the booth and badges with vaccine logos can be issued on the spot.

The selfie booth campaign is being launched in the following MCDs: East, West, North, South, and MCD Delhi. The booth campaign is being launched in the upcoming days.

The selfies or badges can be shared on social media, and the people can get a selfie taken with their happy moment after getting vaccinated.

Since there are new and daily developments in this season, here are some currently progressing towards becoming a ten-trillion-dollar economy?

It is very likely that the presence of industries and level of industrialisation in the state is significant to its GDP. Through the past ten months, several achievements that had not only reversed the impact of the pandemic but also exceeded expectations were noted. During this period, the state witnessed a significant upsurge in industrial activities that could have been witnessed even before the pandemic.

In the direction of improving UP’s image, many European countries, particularly the US, Japan, Korea, and some others, have shown interest in linking with the industries, and the state government is working towards facilitating these directions of improving UP’s image as a state, in turn, helping industrialists revive businesses.

As the result of our consistent efforts in the direction of improving UP’s image as an investment-friendly destination that makes the state jump 10 places to occupy the second spot in the “Ease of Doing Business” rankings list at the national level. During the pandemic, the state government was in talks with several foreign companies that were wishing to shift their base from India to China. Fortunately, this case was no different. As per the understanding with the US company’s move to shift its operations, the company agreed to set up a new plant in Prayagraj. Currently, we are in talks with a few more foreign companies to make them invest in Uttar Pradesh. Experts feel that what we are currently experiencing can be said that wherever we have been able to garner investments to the tune of Rs. 45,000 crore during the pandemic. What are some of the new investments received in the COVID-19 period? The recent announcement by the US company from China to set up its smart phone display manufacturing plant in Noida, amounting to Rs. 9000 crore. By March 2021, it is expected that the company will begin its commercial operations in state. Similarly, Britannia Industries will invest around Rs. 3000 crore to set up its proposed greenfield plant in Uttar Pradesh. The Alcatel Batch has already set up a plant in the state, with the company planning to add another plant in the state.

The state has been able to attract investments even during the COVID-19 period. These investments were further motivated by the government's focus on improving various sectors and infrastructure development. The state government has come to the forefront to help industries alleviate their distress due to COVID-19 with industry-specific reforms and policy-driven development. In the past 10 months, we have been able to garner investments to the tune of Rs 45,000 crore and have convinced many foreign companies to invest in Uttar Pradesh. It is the result of our consistent efforts that made the state jump 10 places to occupy the second spot in the "Ease of Doing Business" rankings at the national level. I can proudly say that this is just the beginning and many more developments are currently underway in the state to help it achieve the status of becoming an one-trillion-dollar economy by 2024.”

Speaking at length on several industry-related developments in Uttar Pradesh in the pandemic era, Satish Mahana, Minister of Industrial Development, Government of Uttar Pradesh, says “Even in these unprecedented times, our government has come to the forefront to help industries alleviate their distress due to COVID-19 with industry-specific reforms and policy-driven development.”

For industries in the state, we offered various opportunities to invest in the country and see the potential of setting up units in the state. We extended various facilities and incentives to industries. Improving buyer sentiment is the priority in 2021

Leveraging innovation and technology

In US one third of top companies in India are the largest producer of structural steel tubes in the country APL Apollo Tubes Ltd has created a remarkable brand presence, managing to wrest 50 percent of the market share. Its vast distribution network across India includes a complete fresh outlook. Earlier the sales network for various shaped tubes included transportation of steel tubes included transportation of water, oil and gas and these tubes were largely being produced by the big players in the market today. However, the company never hesitated in investing more in R&D, which works as a driving force behind its ever-growing ability to create new products, adapt new applications, strengthen processes, develop new markets and enhance existing markets. Innovation is the key to APL Apollo’s sustainable growth and operational emphasis on it has an inextricable part of the company’s DNA.

Golden days

On the landmark day of January 24, 2021, the Uttar Pradesh Government has set remarkable milestones in the last couple of years in creating a conducive ambience for all-round development of the state. Working as a catalyst, the state is creating opportunities of growth and self-reliance with many dynamic programmes for millions of its people to meet the challenges of the market today. Though there’s still a huge liquidity crunch in the market today, there are buyers who are willing to invest in good projects. So this increased buyer confidence has led to gradual volume for some promoters, especially credible promoters. In the last quarter, the sales volume picked up pace and we believe that it will be even better in 2021. Stalled projects will see revival, whereas on-going projects will also flourish into the market in 2021.

Judicial review a remedy to prevent abuse of spl powers: Justice Surya Kant

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, January 23

In the wake of the Supreme Court’s recent decision to consider the government’s plea for granting constitutional status to the National Anti-Corruption Bureau (NACB) in the next round of hearing on January 25, Justice Surya Kant, a retired apex court judge, has called for judicial review as a tool to avoid abuse of special powers.

He said the government is “very power hungry” and has been acting as if it has become a “superpower”.

“Judicial review is a very important tool to prevent the abuse of special powers,” he told a private event in New Delhi.

Justice Kant is the former Chief Justice of the Patna High Court.

In a country where the law and order have been proclaimed, he said, “the government has been acting as if it has become a superpower.”

“The government is very power hungry,” he said. “We are compelled to say this because we have seen the way the government has been acting.”

“Judicial review is a very important tool to prevent the abuse of special powers,” he said. “The government has been acting as if it has become a superpower.”

Justice Kant also提到，判例制度的必要性在于，防止政府滥用特许权。

WHO says Pfizer deal could allow poor countries to start vaccinating in February

EMMA FARRUGIA AND MATTHEW BLAMONT

LONDON — The World Health Organization said on Friday that Pfizer and its German partner BioNTech had agreed to sell their Covid-19 vaccine to 92 developing countries and should be able to start delivering doses by the end of March at most.

WHO and the Gavi vaccine alliance — which signed deals for hundreds of millions of doses to secure vaccines for poor and lower-middle income countries — made the announcement.

WHO said that under the agreement, 190 million doses of the vaccine would be delivered to low- and middle-income countries as part of the Covax mechanism.

David Kennedy, deputy director of the Covax delivery and distribution program, said in a statement that the vaccine agreement would “be a game-changer for the world’s poorest countries.”

He said the agreement was the result of an “unprecedented” global negotiation effort and that countries would be able to begin inoculating their populations within weeks.

In February, Covax distributed vaccines to 70 countries, including low- and lower-middle-income countries, and the number of doses delivered is expected to increase significantly in the coming months.

The deal comes amid growing criticism of a one-sided profit model that leaves many poorer countries out in the cold.

WHO Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus said the agreement was significant, but that it would not be enough to end the pandemic.

He urged more countries to join Covax and said the world “cannot afford to have different rules for different parts of the world.”

Taiwan is in talks with Pfizer to purchase the vaccine, and the country’s health minister has said the government is considering purchasing the vaccine for the entire population.

The talks are the latest in a series of efforts by the government to secure vaccines as the country faces a rising number of cases and the risk of a new wave.

Taiwan is currently in talks with several vaccine manufacturers, including Pfizer, to secure enough doses to vaccinate its population.

China’s vaccine candidate, which is also available on an on-profit basis. He described it as an “initial agreement,” with the current estimate of 2 billion doses to be sold through Covax.

The vaccine is expected to be available in February for health workers, but timing for the general public is still being determined.

Pfizer’s CEO Albert Bourla, in an interview, said the vaccine could be available “in a few months.”

Farmers in UP take out tractor rally to Raj Bhavan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

AFRIDA WIJEGUNAWPROTEST

The Congress is preparing to stage a tractor rally in the state on Monday, the day of the last phase of the Uttar Pradesh elections, as a part of the nationwide farmers' movement against the three agriculture laws.

The state Congress has been coordinating with farmers' organizations, particularly the Bharti Kisan Union Ekta Ugraha, to organize the rally.

The rally will start from the Suchidram Chowk in Lucknow and proceed to Raj Bhavan, the residence of the Governor, and other key locations in the city.

Farmers will be raising slogans and holding placards to voice their demands.

The event is expected to draw a large crowd, with thousands of farmers expected to participate.

The state Congress has been urging farmers to participate in the rally and join the nationwide protest against the new agriculture laws.

The rally is part of a series of protests and demonstrations organized by farmers' organizations across the country to demand the repeal of the three agriculture laws.

The three laws, which were passed by the Parliament in September 2020, have been opposed by farmers and various farmer organizations on grounds that they will lead to the dismantling of the Minimum Support Price (MSP) system and the control of agricultural produce by private players.

The rallies and protests have been marked by violence in some instances, with clashes between farmers and law enforcement agencies.

The state Congress has been calling on the government to address the concerns of farmers and roll back the three laws.

SCHOOL STAFFERS ARRESTED

Three staffers of Bisapur shelter home held, 2 on the run

Police

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
BISAPUR,JANUARY 23

Three members of the management committee of Chhotanagpur's (Saran) Shri Ram Jyoti Government Girls' Senior Secondary School, Bisapur, were arrested by the police here on Thursday.

Women on the run

The police arrested Shabnam Devi, head teacher of the girls' seminary, and two others after they were identified as Ritu and her younger brother Shantanu, both staffers of the school.

One staff member was on the run, police said.

Police had registered an FIR against the school, accused of being involved in the sexual harassment of school girls, and were looking for the others.

Two women against their will in the run

The police had registered a case against three girls under the Sexual Assault Act, 1960, after a complaint was lodged with them.

According to police, the girls were being disturbed and molested by the school teachers.

The girls were being sexually abused daily and physically abused by one teacher each — the principal and another.

A complaint was lodged by one of the girls, and the police registered an FIR against the school.

Shabnam Devi, who was working as a painter there, was arrested.

The police alleged that the other staff member, Ritu, had been disturbing the girls and even physically abusing them.

This was identified through on-site investigations.

Shabnam Devi, who was working at the school as an art teacher, was later arrested by the police who submitted an application at the police station. After her interrogation, the police said that she admitted to the police that she had been disturbing the girls.

The police also stated that she was disturbing the girls and even physically abusing them.

Coach Limpele knows the Indians' game plan, and also their strong points and weaknesses.

"You may not know the minute details about your opponent, but you know, broadly speaking, his stature, his skill, his performance in the recent matches, which has attracted 252 wrestlers in 10 weight categories. Sandeep's victory means he zooms into contention in a crowded field, which also includes former national champions Count. Endo-Watanabe (2-2), Fajar-Ardianto (Indonesia) and even boasts an even better record against the Chinese Li-Liu (2-1) and Koreans Puavaranukroh (1-2) and Taerattanachai (1-1) in doubles.

As the 2k-time trial is the key screening test for muscle and cardiovascular fitness, it is used in the BWF to determine whether a player is fit enough to compete at the highest level of the sport. The 2k-time trial is a combination of running and rowing, which means the athlete has to be able to join the other, with a 2500-watt machine and a 500-metre rowing machine, which is why it is a key test for the athletes. The BWF has even created a special category for the 2k-time trial, called "elite athletes," which is why the Indian Express has been following the news of the 2k-time trial and the Indian team's performance in it.
